Millionaire Before He Was Twenty-one
The arch prospector of all times was Cecil Rhodes. When he was seventeen he had been touched with tuberculosis and ordered south. Arriving at his brother Herbert's cotton plantation in Africa in the midst of the second diamond excitement, he, with Herbert, was drawn into the "new rush." They took a claim at Colesburg at 30 shillings a month rental. In a few weeks each leased a full claim, all the law allowed. Cecil Rhodes set himself to get the law to allow one man to own two claims, then ten and then as many as he could lay hold of. So well did Rhodes keep pace with changing regulations that he returned to England at nineteen a millionaire!—Franklin Clark in Everybody's.

CHILD DROWNED IN UNUSED VAT

Abandoned Vat in Rear of Railroad Street Home Scene of Drowning of Four Year Old Niece of Simon Stein.

Falling into an abandoned vat in the rear of the home of Simon Stein on Railroad street this morning Rachael Foreman, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myer Foreman, of Lykens, was drowned, the lifeless body not being found until eleven o'clock, an hour after the child was last seen alive.

Mrs. Foreman has been visiting at the home of her brother, Simon Stein, and this morning the family were engaged in washing clothes. They were busy about their work when it was found that the little girl was missing. The women at once started a search and the neighborhood was visited to see if any trace could be found.

As the minutes passed and nothing could be seen of the tot, fears that some misfortune had befallen her increased, only to be justified when the lifeless body was found floating on the top of the water in an old vat located in a building in the rear of the home. The place had one time been used as a tannery and lately the water was used for rough work about the house. The vat was uncovered and the child evidently fell in while playing in the building which has little light.

The child was quickly carried to the house where the frenzied women grasped it wildly and in a vain endeavor to restore it to consciousness, tossed it about. Neighbors hearing the screaming, rushed in and tried to calm the mother and the others of the household and endeavored to use some of the well known means to resuscitate the little girl. Physicians were summoned but it was some time before any medical aid could be obtained and when the doctors arrived the child was pronounced dead. It is probable that death occurred before the body was discovered in the vat.

The agony of the mother and the other women was most pitiful, their moaning and screaming being audible for a square. All efforts to comfort them proved unavailing and it was many hours before their grief could be quieted.

Dr. G. E. Spatz, of Hampton, coroner of Adams County, when informed of the circumstances of the death of the child stated that he deemed an inquest unnecessary.

STORE ROBBED

The store of Keady and Son at Orattana was entered and robbed Sunday night. The thief is supposed to have been a tramp who was seen about the place during the day. A suit and a pair of shoes were taken with some other articles all of which are supposed to have been placed in a mail bag which is missing. Thirty two cents made up the money secured. Entrance was gained through a window, the lower sash being pried open.

INJURIES FATAL TO MR. MCCLUNE

Littlestown Resident Dies in York Hospital from Injuries Received when Run Over by Freight Car at Hanover.

Thomas McClune, of Littlestown, who was run over by a freight car in the Hanover yards on Tuesday morning, died in the York hospital in the afternoon at four o'clock.

Mr. McClune's leg was entirely severed when the car ran over it and his left leg was broken. He was hurried on a special train to the York hospital where it was found necessary to amputate the member which was not cut off by the car. The operation was performed at noon and after lingering for several hours the unfortunate man died at the hospital. The body was taken to his home in Littlestown today.

Mr. McClune was aged about thirty five years and is survived by his wife and two children. He had been a resident of Littlestown for a comparatively short time.

He had been in the service of the Northern Central Railroad for some years and narrowly escaped death several years ago when he was struck by an engine in the Hanover yards and sustained serious injuries from which he fully recovered.

Mr. McClune is an extra freight conductor and flagman on the Pennsylvania between Frederick and Columbia and was shifting in the yards at Hanover. When the accident occurred he was climbing a ladder at the front end of a rapidly moving freight car. He slipped and fell beneath the trucks with the result noted.

Much sympathy was expressed among trainmen over the accident to their fellow workman. McClune had been granted a leave of absence in the morning, to take effect after his regular daily run from Columbia to Littlestown with local freight train, No. 692. He had arranged to spend some time with his mother, who lives in Lancaster county.

AERIAL TRAMWAY FOR FULTON

Fulton county, which has no rail roads and is connected with the outside world only by a stage coach, is to open up communications with Franklin county by means of a cable tramway. A company intends to build a cable line from McConnellsburg, the county seat of Fulton county, to Ft. Loudon, Franklin, a distance of eight miles. Primarily the tramway is for the carrying of freight but, it is said, passengers will be carried if they do not object to being shot from mountain top to mountain top across valleys 300 feet below.

The business men of McConnellsburg are principally interested in the new line as their expenses for hauling freight across mountains into their town amount to something like $30,000 a year.

The cable will be supported by poles and it is estimated that freight weighing several tons can be shipped over the line. So far, it is said, Fulton county men have subscribed about $20,000 towards the project.

BIG MOUNTAIN FIRE

Sunday night a big fire broke loose in the mountain back of the park at Caledonia, on Yellow Ridge along Hoosac run. Conklin and his force worked like Trojans to conquer the fire which was likely started by some careless smoker throwing down a lighted match.

GOOD SPELLERS

(Contributed)
The Biglerville schools boast of some of the best spellers in the county. If there are others who boast any better records we would be glad to see it in The Times. At the beginning of the school term a prize was offered to the one in each grade who missed the least number of words in the regular spelling lessons. The lessons were written each evening and averaged thirty or thirty five words to the lesson. For A grade Estia Bream carries the honors, having missed only five words during the entire term. The B grade honors are carried by Eva Fohl. The C grade honors are won by Ollie Eckert who also missed only five words during the entire term. She also has the honor of attending school the last five years without missing one day.

During this term Viola Kapp Marie Mowery, Correne Deatrick, and Ollie Eckert have had perfect attendance records, and many others are to be commended for good attendance and good work. Ethel R. Wolfert, teacher.

COUNTY CENSUS MATTERS

In the list of census enumerators for Adams County published recently there were two errors. G. B. Linah was named as one of those assigned to Huntington township. The name should have been H. S. Weidner. The two men to do the work in Mount Pleasant township are Charles E. Heltzel and Claude A. Bixler. E. J. Sponseller was given instead of Mr. Heltzel in the list first published.

There will be thirty two questions to be asked concerning every man, woman and child, even the infant in arms, and it will necessitate the residents of every district to be on the alert and assist the enumerators in order that the task may be completed on scheduled time.

There will be no opportunity to "call again when Mr. Blanck is home" but it will be necessary for every family to get together the data which is needed so that when the enumerators call this information is ready to be imparted without the slightest delay. The questions are simple and not impertinent as many persons imagine. What information is given is held in the strictest confidence by the enumerator but even if it was not there are so many facts and figures which will be crowded into his head during the two weeks which he is at work that it is not likely that he will remember much about the details once they are placed on paper.

Some of the facts which are wanted and which it may be necessary for the woman of the house or the man of the house to answer when the enumerator calls are, the state or country and the year of birth, year of marriage, place of birth of the father and mother of every one enumerated who is born on or before April 15th, or who died after April 15th. Character of business, rented house, or whether owned, ability to read and write are other questions asked. The questions asked are quite simple and can be answered by any person and in order that the work shall not be unnecessarily delayed it is important that all be prepared with the needed data when the census enumerator calls at your residence, after the work of enumeration starts.

FLAYS TRUSTS IN HOUSE

Elimination of Private Monopoly Taft's Great Work, Says Morton.

Washington, March 30.—Representative Morton, of South Dakota, took a fling at the trusts in a fiery speech, during which he said:

"The really great work of the Taft administration is the clearing out of the private monopoly from the commerce of the country.

"In the process of consolidation the promoters usually take on a large amount of water, purely fictitious capitalization. United States Steel was watered to the extent of $400,000,000. Swollen fortunes are usually stolen fortunes. The man who acquires a million in a week should have the burden of proof that he did not acquire it feloniously.

"There are 325,000 industrial corporations in the United States, and $24,000 of these have developed legitimately and lawfully and have nothing to fear from anti-trust laws. In round numbers, 500 corporations have been formed by the consolidation of other companies. Of this number perhaps less than 100 are unlawful combinations, having been formed to suppress production or control prices. Here we have the trust. Standard Oil was organized in 1899. It has taken ten years to bring it to conclusions in the courts.

"Meantime it has made profits of $60,000,000 per year on a capitalization of $97,500,000, and now asks congress to charter a foundation to distribute these increasing millions to the end of time."

SOCIETY MAN HEAD OF GANG OF ROBBERS

Must Answer Charge of Holding Up Couple.

Chicago, March 30.—Orby Hunter, a Hyde Park society man, is accused by the police of being the head of a gang of hold-up men who have operated in Hyde Park for the past three months. He will be arraigned before Judge Fry on the charge of highway robbery.

Hunter is now free on bond and laughs at the charge against him. According to Lieutenant McCauley, of the Hyde Park station, the specific crime with which Hunter is charged is the robbery on Feb. 11 of A. E. Gardner and his wife in the hallway of their home. Gardner and his wife were held up by two men and robbed of $250.

Hunter has been living in the Holland hotel since the family home at 5125 Jefferson avenue was closed last fall, when his mother and his two sisters went to southern France for the winter. He is in the real estate business and has offices at 180 LaSalle street.

Hunter, according to the police, lived for awhile after the family went to Europe in the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. He left there, the officers say, after a number of petty thefts had been committed in the building.

$20,000 WORTH JEWELS STOLEN

Society Woman Robbed in Washington.

SERVANT IS MISSING

Gems Were Taken From a Jewel Box

In Mrs. F. D. Bugher's Bedroom. Suspect Has Twenty-four Hours Start on Police.

Washington, March 30.—Mrs. Frederick D. Bugher, wife of Deputy Police Commissioner Bugher, of New York, who is here visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Nicoll Ludlow, wife of Rear Admiral Ludlow, U. S. N., has been robbed of jewels estimated to be worth $20,000. Mr. Bugher is a son of Mrs. Ludlow by a previous marriage.

Mrs. Bugher arrived here several days ago to spend the Easter period with her mother-in-law and to take part in the usual social activities that follow the closing of the Lenten season. Mrs. Bugher brought with her jewelry valued at $50,000, but the police figures on the stolen diamonds are about $20,000.

Clarence Wilson, who was second man at the home of Mrs. Ludlow, is suspected of having taken the jewels, and the police have sent out an alarm for his arrest.

The robbery is supposed to have taken place some time Monday. Wilson came to the Ludlow home about a week ago highly recommended and was fully trusted. Monday he asked permission to go to the White House grounds to see the egg rolling. Permission was readily granted, and he left.

As Mrs. Bugher was dressing she missed her jewel box from the dressing table in her bedroom, but believing that it had been mislaid, she went to breakfast. When she returned to her room she looked for the box again, but could not locate it. She called Mrs. Ludlow, and both took up the search for the box.

Finally Mrs. Ludlow called her butler, a servant of many years' standing, and told him of the disappearance of the box. He went to the basement to summon Wilson, the second man, with a view to sending him for the police, but Wilson was not in sight. When the butler went to Wilson's room he found evidences of a hasty departure.

No trace of Wilson has so far been found. In addition to the missing jewelry, Mrs. Bugher's purse, containing $150, has also disappeared, and the police believe that Wilson, with this as ready money and nearly twenty-four hours' start, is a long distance from Washington.

Mrs. Ludlow is a sister of Mrs. Dewey, wife of Admiral Dewey, and also a sister of John R. McLean, the publisher and president of the Washington Gas Light company. Mrs. Bugher is prostrated at her loss and is confined to her room.

ACCUSED OF KILLING CHILD

Young Woman Lodged In Jail on Serious Charge.

Georgetown, Del., March 30.—On the charge of killing her one-month-old child, Cinderella Miller, a twenty-year-old colored girl, was arrested in Rehoboth and brought to this city by State Detective Walls and lodged in the county jail. The girl is accused of strangling the baby with a small cord, and the state claims to be able to produce witnesses to that effect.

The child's death was supposed to have been from natural causes, and the girl's story of its dying in her lap was believed until a peculiar mark around its throat was noticed. A quiet investigation was made and the arrest was the consequence.

Cambridge, Mass., March 30.—Alexander Agassiz, eminent naturalist, son of the great Professor Louis Agassiz and president of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company, died on the steamship Adriatic on the way from Southampton to New York. SELL COCAINE AS CANDY TO CHILDREN

Startling Disclosures Made in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, March 30.—Startling disclosures of a far-reaching syndicate for the unrestricted sale of cocaine were made when almost fifty prisoners, among whom were seven prominent druggists and a police surgeon, who had been arrested in raids made Monday night under the direction of the state pharmaceutical board, were arraigned before Magistrate Beaton and held under heavy bail for court.

The crusade, which was started two months ago by the state pharmaceutical board, has shown that even school children have fallen victims to the demoralizing drug, which could be purchased freely in many sections of the city, and in the tenderloin it was sold as a substitute for candy.

Samuel M. Clement, Jr., who is conducting the prosecution for the pharmaceutical board, asserts that these arrests are only a few in comparison to the number which will follow, and that it is the nucleus of almost a wide-spread syndicate for the sale of the drug, with operatives in all large cities acting as agents for several men who have gained great wealth in the illegal traffic, and who, he says, will be soon placed under arrest.

A number of suitcases containing evidence captured in the raid were emptied upon a table before the magistrate, and the confiscated cocaine and opium "layouts" were said to represent more than $1000.

TWO WOMEN BURNED

One Lighting Stove—Other Dropped a Lamp.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 30.—Miss Mary Keller and Mrs. Sarah Gallop, of this city, were burned to death. Miss Keller's dress caught fire as she was lighting a stove, and she was so badly burned that she died soon afterward.

Mrs. Gallop dropped a gasoline lamp, and the blazing oil set her clothing on fire, and she was dreadfully burned before the flames were extinguished.

Two Children Burned to Death.

Pittsburg, March 30.—Two young children were burned to death and their mother, Mrs. George Rowe, and three other children injured in a fire which destroyed their home in Washington. A gas jet left burning ignited the woodwork in the lower part of the house.

Three Men Burned to Death in Bed.

Youngstown, O., March 30.—Two tube mill workers were burned to death in a fire which destroyed three boarding houses in Broad street, East Youngstown. The men were asleep when the blaze broke out and were not missed until their bodies were found in the ruins.

Embezzlers Sentenced.

Indianapolis, March 30.—William H. and Noah R. Marker, brothers, cashier and assistant cashier of the First National bank of Tipton, were sentenced to the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth. William Marker was sentenced for ten years and his brother for seven years. The charges were falsifying records, making false statements to the comptroller and embezzling $87,000 of the bank's money.

DEATH MAY HALT TRUST DECISIONS

Brewer's Demise May Delay Final Action.

SPECULATION ON VOTE

The Standard Oil, Tobacco and Corporation Tax Cases Await Determination by United States Supreme Court.

Washington, March 30.—Three of the most important cases that have awaited determination by the United States supreme court may be entirely changed in their progress and final results in consequence of Justice Brewer's sudden death.

These are the Standard Oil, Tobacco and corporation tax cases. No more far-reaching suit has ever been reviewed by this highest tribunal than that involving the dissolution of the Standard Oil company. This litigation may be affected by Justice Brewer's demise in two ways: 1. Rehearing of oral arguments may be required in one or all of the cases. 2. Delay in reaching a final decision may follow because of the part taken by the late justice in moulding the conclusions arrived at by the court—if that stage was passed.

Under no circumstances will it be necessary to institute new proceedings or bring either of the cases now pending through all the processes of the lower courts. The department of justice will be in no way affected by the present situation. It is one with which the supreme court alone can deal. The surviving members must determine for themselves whether a rehearing of arguments is necessary in one or more of the cases. Such conclusions will depend entirely on the status of the various suits.

It is the supposedly invariable custom of the supreme court to meet in sessions on the Saturday following the termination of verbal arguments in any specified case. A vote is then taken and some justice designated to formulate the final opinion of the court. This procedure is believed to have been followed in the Standard Oil, Tobacco and corporation tax cases, more than one Saturday having elapsed since the final arguments in the cause last heard.

Speculation Concerning Vote.

If the court divided evenly in the Standard Oil case, Justice Brewer voting against sustaining the government's contention, a rehearing would be required, as the addition of a new member entertaining the same views as the dead justice would not change the status, as the government would win with a divided court. If Justice Brewer voted in favor of the government a rehearing would be essential in order that the government might have the same chance of winning. If the vote stood 5 to 3 either for the government or the Standard Oil company there would be no necessity whatever for a rehearing, unless Justice Brewer's vote was such as to remove the government's possible chance of getting the decision by a divided court.

The tobacco cases are different in many respects from that of the Standard Oil. The decision of the lower court was mixed, and both the government and the tobacco trust took appeals. It is not considered probable that Justice Brewer's vote could have been such as to render essential a rehearing of argument in those cases.

The same is true of the corporation tax cases. The government could not win by a divided court, and there seems to be no chance by which the vote of Justice Brewer could affect the result in such a way as to make a rehearing necessary.

In some quarters it is not believed that the court took a vote in sessions in the Saturday following the Standard Oil and corporation tax cases, and that the matter of decision is still open. The court has been in recess since March 21.

AT 74 OWES FINE HEAD OF HAIR TO CUTICURA

Itching, Scaling Scalp Humor was Making It All Fall Out—Two Doctors Could Not Stop the Trouble—Niece Advised Using Cuticura.

CURED HER SCALP AND MADE HAIR GROW AGAIN

"My mother used to have a very bad humor on her head which the doctors called eczema, and for it I had two different doctors. Her head was very sore and her hair nearly all fell out in spite of what they both did. One day her niece came in to see her and they were speaking of how her hair was falling out and the doctors did it no good. She says, 'Aunt, why don't you try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment?' Mother did and they helped her, so she soon began bathing with the Cuticura Soap and ointment with the Cuticura Ointment, and in six months' time the itching, burning and scaling of her head was over and her hair began growing. To-day she feels very much improved and her hair is growing again for the fine head of hair she has for an old lady seventy-four years old."

In regard to my own case, mine was an eczema, something like hers. It was in my feet. As soon as the cold weather came my feet would itch and burn and then they would crack open and bleed. Then I thought I would use to my mother's friends, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I did for four or five winters and now my feet are as smooth as any one's. WHO'LL SUCCEED BREWER?

Speculation as to Jurist to Be Raised to Supreme Bench.

Washington, March 30.—Speculation in regard to a successor to Justice Brewer is already rife.

The politicians have turned first to the great "eighth circuit," from which Justice Brewer came. Two of the members of its court already have been mentioned in connection with the supreme court bench. They are Judge Walter H. Sanborn, of St. Paul, Minn., and Judge Willis Van Devanter, of Cheyenne, Wyo. In the seventh circuit is another possibility, Lloyd W. Bowers, of Chicago, now solicitor general of the department of justice. Judge Sanborn attained fame by his decision declaring the Standard Oil company to be an illegal monopoly.

Another candidate, whose chances are considered good is Judge John W. Warrington, of the sixth circuit court. Judge Warrington, who is a close personal friend of President Taft, is an Ohioan.

Among those whose names were mentioned was Secretary of War Dickinson, General Lloyd W. Bowers, Secretary Nagel, Henry M. Hoyt, Governor Hughes and Senator Root, of New York.

House Adopts a Resolution For Full Investigation.

Washington, March 30.—The house adopted a resolution for an investigation of charges that a lobby was maintained in Washington by shipping interests corruptly to influence members of the house in favor of ship subsidy legislation.

These charges have been pending for several weeks, activity on the part of a merchant marine league being involved.

PENNSYLVANIA R. R. RAISES WAGES

175,000 Men Granted 6 Per Cent. Increase.

Philadelphia, March 30.—The Pennsylvania railroad has made a voluntary increase of 6 per cent in the pay of all employees who now get less than $300 per month. The raise is to be effective from the first of next month. About 175,000 men are affected.

Notices were posted at all division points on the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburgh. It is understood that a similar advance will apply on the lines west of Pittsburgh. That being the case, an army of probably 175,000 men will be benefited. On the lines east of Pittsburgh the Pennsylvania road employs about 123,000 men, and on the western system some 58,000 more. Comparatively few get more than $300 per month.

Huge Gift For Washington University.

St. Louis, Mo., March 30.—It was reported here that Adolphus Busch, the multi-millionaire St. Louis brewer, will donate to Washington university, of this city, a very large sum, some estimates of which reach into millions of dollars, to make the university's medical department the greatest scientific school in the United States, as planned by Robert Brookings, the university's president.

Calls the United States a Model.

Copenhagen, March 30.—King Frederick declared that the United States is the model for all nations. This expression was made to Minister Egan, who, having recently returned to the Danish capital, was received in audience. Mr. Egan brought a personal message to the king from President Taft.

Countess Held as Swindler.

Berlin, March 30.—Society here has been shocked by the arrest at Munich of Countess Friedrich von Schoenberne Buchelm on suspicion of complicity in swindles in Austria and Switzerland. The countess was born Princess Cantacuzene of Russia. There is a possibility that she is the victim of a mistake in identity.

ALLDS BRANDED AS BRIBE TAKER

New York Senate Voted 40 to 9 Against Him.

CONGER NEXT ON GRILL

Allds Resigned Before Vote Was Taken to Prevent Action, But Motion Sustaining Charges Is Passed.

Albany, N. Y., March 30.—Just as the New York senate was about to vote on the question whether John P. Allds was guilty of accepting a $1000 bribe as charged by Senator Benn Conger, Allds resigned from the senate.

Thrown into confusion by this sudden and unexpected move on the part of the accused man, the senate took a recess for an hour to determine whether any further action could be taken.

Reassembling, the senate voted by 40 yeas to 9 nays that the charges against Allds had been sustained. This vote was taken on a resolution offered by Senator Cobb declaring that Conger's charges had been proved.

The report of the committee on the whole to the senate proper was adopted by 38 yeas to 8 nays.

A statement given out by Allds' counsel declared that Allds resigned on the advice of his attorneys, because the latter were satisfied that his case was not to be decided on the evidence, but by political expediency and influence brought to bear from Washington and elsewhere.

Accuser "Stands Pat."

Before Allds resigned he went to the financial clerk of the senate and signed for his salary to date. About the same time Senator Benn Conger, his accuser, also signed for his money.

This led to a report that Conger, too, would resign. But Conger "stood pat" and gave no indication of what he would do. He sat throughout the session with his wife at his side.

Senator Cobb, the majority leader, introduced a resolution providing for the formal presentation of charges against Conger, based on the evidence brought out by the investigation that he gave a bribe to influence legislation. The senate postponed action on the proposition until later.

Provision for a general investigation of alleged legislative corruption will be made with all speed.

Sensational developments came in kaleidoscopic order as the senate assembled for the crucial day in the scandal that has shaken the Republican forces ever since the legislative session opened. Great crowds had come for the session, as it was expected that many senators would take occasion to explain their votes on the question of Allds' guilt with speeches fraught with political importance.

Then came the Allds bombshell. Half an hour before the voting was to begin one of his counsel in the investigation, Lewis E. Carr, announced that Allds had resigned. Confirmation of this was received quickly from the office of the secretary of state. This action was taken as indicating that Allds, after a poll of the senators, found that there was a majority against him and that the vote of the committee of the whole would be followed by his expulsion by the senate. The formal resignation gave no cause for the step. It took effect immediately.

Senate in a Flurry.

As soon as the resignation was read the senate, on motion of Senator Brackett, took a recess of an hour. The significance of this action became apparent when it became known that a movement was on foot to adopt a compromise resolution declaring that the Conger charges had not been sustained, but that nevertheless enough evidence had been deduced to warrant Allds resigning. Immediately a conference in which Democrats and Republicans mingled opened in the senate library, where Mr. Carr made a speech.

Mr. Van Hoesen, of Conger's legal staff, was called in shortly after. The point was raised that inasmuch as Allds had resigned there was no longer any question before the senate and that the vote on the Conger charges was unnecessary.

The conference finally decided that it was the duty of the committee of the whole to vote upon the question of whether or not the charges were sustained.

Coal Bids Rejected.

Washington, March 30.—A suspicious uniformity in the bids for supplying half a million tons of New River and Pocahontas coal for the use of the Panama railroad, together with the average high price demanded, led the directorate of that corporation, at a meeting held in this city, to reject all of the bids offered and to order a readvertisement. In the meantime it is possible that the department of justice will be called upon to investigate the peculiar conditions surrounding the bidding.

Millman Sawed in Twain.

Milton, Pa., March 30.—John G. Yocum, of White Deer township, Union county, about three miles from this place, met a horrible death in his saw mill, when a large plank pitched him into a circular saw, which severed his body near the middle. He leaves a widow and two sons.

YOU ARE GOING TO PAINT THIS SPRING

FOR INDOOR PAINTING

A 50 cent can of CHI-NAMEL will work wonders in your home when applied to the furniture that has been scuffed or on the worn places in the floor. Whiskey, alcohol or perfumery has no effect on a CHI-NAMEL surface—you may pour boiling water on it and scrub with soap-scoring soap if you want to, it won't turn white nor lose its gloss. We have all colors.

FOR OUTDOOR PAINTING

We want you to try the famous B. P. S. PAINT made by the Patterson Sargent Company. We have found it the best ready mixed paint on the market and guarantee it to wear well.

The ATLANTIC COAST PAINT may be just what you want—it is in a semi-paste form and wears like iron. Ask to see it. We are agents for and carry in stock LEWIS, BUCK and CARTER WHITELEAD.

HELPFUL HINTS TO CITY FARMERS

By H. L. Rann

THIRD ARTICLE.

If every farmer who has a hard milking cow would use husking gloves when draining the animal he would find it a sure cure for the holdup habit. Some cows are tight by nature and have a deep aversion to loosening up. When a tight fisted helper feels the warm clasp of a pair of spike studded mitts, however, she will be ready to give to the heathen, if necessary.

The self opening farm gate is a delusion and a snare. We used to have one, and it was a bigger four flush than an elder who led a double life and a camp meeting at one and the same time. This gate was guaranteed to open at the sound of its master's voice in the teeth of a head wind and was warranted halter broke and sound of wind and limb. As a matter of fact, that gate always had to be opened with a set of jack screws and a season of prayer.

It was the biggest nuisance on the place and caused all the hired help on the farm to fall from grace. We finally gave it to a Methodist neighbor who wanted to test his piety.

A farm paper raises the interesting query, "Can a farmer raise mules and retain his church membership?" It depends on what church he belongs to. It is easy if he is an Episcopalian, but if he is a hard shell Baptist it is a little doubtful. We had a Methodist neighbor who tickled the curriculum of a mule in a moment of playfulness and had both of his eyeteeth riveted to his collar button in reward, and when he came to the next day he rose to his feet, repeated the third chapter of Nebuchadnezzar backward, then swore a streak which blistered the lining out of a new steel range. The man who can rear a family of mules from helpless infancy to maturity without a display of rough necked profanity is too good for any church.

ought to study LAW.

A nearby reader who has a fine herd of male and female bees asks us, "How can you catch the queen bee so as to clip her wings?" We generally use a scoop shovel with a pucker string, which should be slipped over the shoulders of the bee and tied in a bowknot, after which the wings can be clipped with a pair of tinner's shears. The queen bee carries a noisy and penetrating sting in her hip pocket, so considerable care must be exercised in fondling her.

Horace Greeley used to say that you can never get milk from a cow which is dissatisfied with her lot or inclined to nurse a grudge. The same is true today. The man who tears around the barn like a demented weasel, planting a kick here and there and talking loudly through the basement of his Adam's apple won't stand jack high on creamery pay day. A kiss on the cold, moist nose of a heifer is a better dividend producer than wharf rat profanity. A cow whose slats are liable to be replated any minute by an irate milker will back her milk away up out of reach of the cheese factory. After you have caressed a milk cow across the breadbasket with a No. 11 boot you might as well try to extract milk from a farrow mule.

When chickens perspire too freely and take cold it will usually be found that their pinfeathers need resetting.

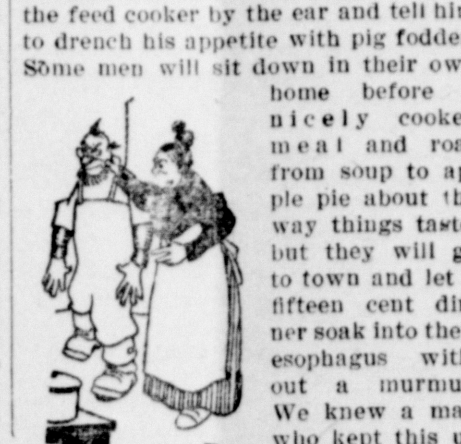

CHASE THE BIRD AROUND THE BACK YARD.

This is a simple and easy process and will save many a pullet from pneumonia. Chase the bird around the back yard until the perspiration oozes from her pores, then lay her on her back and clinch the pores with portland cement, which will hold the pinfeathers in place.

If your gasoline engine bucks, it will do no good to hammer it over the foretop with an ax. First see if the cross-bar which connects the cuspidor with the spark plug has not been short circuited, then examine the bowels of the water jacket with a dark lantern in search of microbes. If this does no good, run your gasoline through an Oystermer mattress and hang out to dry.

A good many of the fashionable hotels of the country are introducing pumpkin seed tea as a vermifuge. The plan is a good one. The pumpkin has been the butt of ridicule in song and story ever since it displaced the Hubbard squash as a choice entree, but we are here to say that a nine inch slab of pumpkin pie, washed down with cider vinegar and dill pickles, will make a section man's stomach sit up and take notice. The man who clasps a cold pumpkin pie to his bosom on an empty stomach and survives the ordeal will never need a massage for his digestive apparatus.

LEAD HIM UP TO THE FEED COOKER BY THE EAR.

We have a word to say to the farmer's wife. If your husband sticks up his nose at the meals lead him up to the feed cooker by the ear and tell him to drench his appetite with pig fodder. Some men will sit down in their own home before a nicely cooked meal and roar from soup to apple pie about the way things taste, but they will go to town and let a fifteen cent dinner soak into their esophagus without a murmur. We knew a man who kept this up for a number of years, and one day his wife reached over the spoon holder and jerked him into several kinds of dishabille before the whole family. When he got his jaw back into alignment and picked his false teeth out of the gravy he was a changed man, becoming so mellow in spirit that he offered to go four rounds with a soup bone. As a rule, we deplore violence in the home, but sometimes the only way to get along with a cross grained feeder is to beat him up with a mop handle.

Have Your Deeds Recorded

By an Act of Assembly of 1893, "All Deeds and Conveyance" shall be recorded within ninety days after their execution, or shall be adjudged fraudulent and void against subsequent purchasers. Also the Act of Assembly of 1909, prescribes a short form of Deeds, and "again requires the recording to make them valid". It is also a great protection against loss or deed being burned by having them recorded, and costs but a small sum, compared to getting a new deed.

Bring or send them into the Recorder's office and in a few days they will be returned to you.

JACOB A. APPLER, Recorder.

CALL OF THE WILD

Announcement that "Call of the Wild" with Franklin Woodruff will be offered at the Walter Theatre, Monday, April 4, naturally brings a throng of joy to the hearts of our play goers. The name of Mr. Woodruff assures a first class play with plenty of good acting and an evening's amusement. A crowded house is almost a certainty.

ST. ELMO

It is worthy of remark that the south the original home of real romance in America so seldom finds a place in dramatic literature where for many years the rich possibilities of this section of the country were utterly ignored. With a rare sympathy for scene and situation Mr. Twomey has not dramatized a novel, but has realized in flesh and blood the personages of those pages and has produced a play graphic, intense and compelling as is the book itself. This is being interpreted by an admirable cast and will be seen at the Walter Theatre tonight.

WANTED a capable cook, no washing or ironing, wages $4.00 a week, to live near Biglerville.

In addition to agricultural resources which are shown in the production of 90,000,000 bushels of wheat in 1909, the state of North Dakota is rated by those who have investigated the matter to contain 31,240 square miles of lignite coal, a carboniferous deposit that is geologically about halfway in process of formation between peat and soft coal. This enormous deposit of fuel, which is bound to prove a potent factor in the industrial development of the state, is worth 90 cents a ton at the mine and is put in the bin of the consumer at $2.75 per ton.

When a home seeker has not positive knowledge beforehand of the character of the subsoil in the new country in which he plans to locate he will do well to postpone closing any deal on a piece of land until such time as he can bore down from four to six feet and find out what lies beneath. Not infrequently have land purchases been made in winter when the ground was frozen hard and covered with snow, which on the coming of warmer weather developed into bogs or stretches of sand and hardpan. Caution in this respect will often avert costly as well as bitter experience.

There is no factor vitally affecting the perpetuity of America as a nation that begins to compare in importance with that having to do with conserving the home life of the nation—through checking the pestilence of divorce, purifying and remodeling the home and changing it from the roosting place it so often is to an altar where the fires of home life and love burn with a pure and steady light. We need to develop the conservation policy with reference to the husbanding of our material resources as a nation, but even more are we in need of the beneficent influence of better homes.

The heavy snows and severe weather quite prevalent throughout the northern states and keeping stock from the usual range in stalk fields and meadows are calling attention very forcibly to some method of utilizing the stalk roughage of the farm in such way as will put the handling of it beyond interruption by deep snows or other unfavorable weather conditions. The method that will do this more satisfactorily than any other is the silo, the installation of which on a farm will double the feeding value of every acre of corn. As land prices advance and soil fertility becomes depleted the silo will be viewed as a necessity on every farm. In the corn belt where feeding operations are carried on to an extent worth mentioning.
